

BEN CLARKE
PhD, PCC
Certified Executive Leadership
Coach

Ben is a certified executive leadership coach with over 23 years of leadership, business and professional coaching experience. He has worked with a number of organizations around the world on leader and team development.

Ben has a background in both technical and leadership roles. He's worked as a start up executive, project leader discovering new oil and gas reserves, a drone pilot, and an academic researcher. He's also worked with clients ranging from entry-level leaders to senior executives across a variety of industries, including oil and gas, not-for-profit and the technology sector.

Ben's passion is to help great leaders, teams and organizations achieve their full potential. His strong focus has been in helping leaders achieve their career goals through continued and successful progression. He's helped hundreds of clients achieve new levels of success, grow in their leadership roles, improve communication skills, strengthen team engagement and transition into new careers. Ben meets the evolving needs of his clients by building long standing relationships and using a unique combination of creative and analytical thinking to help bring awareness to the heart of the issue and foster successful outcomes.

Ben is equally at home in the boardroom as in the mountains, and his coaching clients choose to work with him both downtown and upriver.

He is a Professional Certified Coach (PCC) with the International Coach Federation (ICF), has a PhD in Applied Science from the University of Cambridge, and a Bachelor's of Science from the University of Edinburgh.
