

LINNAEA HARRISON

MA, CPHR

Senior Manager, Organizational Development

Linnaea is a human resources specialist with over 10 years of experience. Her focus has been on business development, organizational culture, brand management, conflict management, HR facilitation, executive training and talent performance management.

Linnaea has experience in multiple industries including construction, health services and non-profit organizations. She's been responsible for work that includes talent and workforce planning, marketing and brand development, community engagement and employee relations. She also has great experience designing and implementing leadership development programs, mentorship structures, organizational strategies and communications.

In her role as Senior Manager, Organizational Development, Linnaea is responsible for policy and process development, project management and client engagement. Linnaea also supports the coaching team through the development of culture and leadership programs and change management strategies.

Linnaea has a Bachelor of Arts (BA) from the University of Calgary, and her Masters of Arts (MA) in Integrated Studies Management from Athabasca University. She is currently a candidate to become a chartered professional in human resources (CPHR) and change management. Linnaea is also active in her community serving as a founding committee member for Tiny Footprints and volunteering as an organizational consultant to Light Up The World (LUTW).